Management report

Global Financial Market Overview

2016 has been a year full of surprises and challenges that had a clear impact on world markets. Nevertheless, most risky assets were able to deliver a positive performance. The year got off on the wrong foot, being its start dominated by two important themes that investors were not fully discounting: a fragile European banking sector, especially Deutsche Bank and the Italian banking system, and the pressure on commodity companies. The actions of central banks and a recovery in the oil prices were the main drivers of the market turnaround since mid-February, while the acceleration of the global economy in the second semester of 2016 set the tone for a strong performance on a full year basis.

Within the various events related to politics, the Spanish elections, the UK referendum, and the US presidential election distinctly prevailed in the global scenario. The first had a marginal positive impact, since the outcome was clearly pro-markets. The second increased dramatically the level of uncertainty, raising concerns about how the UK-exit from the EU will impact the global economy, as well as adding another link of systemic risk, with the pound depreciating 16.3% against the US dollar and 13.6% against the euro. However, without the trigger of the article 50 of the Lisbon treaty, invertors understood that most of the uncertainty will be postponed for 2017. The outcome of the latter has been the one which drove the last leg of risky assets returns. Equity markets sold-off when it was clear that Trump would win. However, after a couple of hours equity markets started to recover from the losses and reached the new alltime highs in November and December, whose driver was the new administration that could push for wide-ranging changes in the political and economic landscape (lower taxes and economic expansion plan). The other side of a Trump administration, like the rise in protectionism and higher geopolitical risk, seemed to not have an impact on investors' views. In addition to that, 2016 also saw an unprecedented pace of ISIS attacks in Europe, reinforcing populism parties across the vast European board.

In the Monetary policy front, the main highlights were the new measures announced in March (buy corporate bonds ex-financials) by the European Central Bank and the December announcement of a reduction in the sizes of the monthly purchases starting in April of 2017. The Fed delayed for most of the year the normalization process and only hiked 25 bps in December.

Equities ended the year higher, with the MSCI World Local index up 6.8%. Nonetheless, the high dispersion of returns across geographies also stood out. On a more positive tone, the US main index S&P 500 delivered a positive return of 9.5%, as markets responded positively to the promise of the Fed to be accommodative (gradual hikes at best), better economic data and the expectation of Trump "making America again", which translates to lower taxes and less regulation. The North-American banking sector increased 20.1%, due to the impact of higher yields, a steeper yield curve and the potential of Trump promise of lower regulation. The MSCI Emerging Markets Local returned 7.1%, whose main driver was the recovery in oil prices. On the negative side, Japan stood out with the Topix down 1.9%, being negatively impacted by 2.7% depreciation of the USD against the Yen. European indices delivered very different returns. Eurostoxx 50 increased by +0.7%, Footsie 100 was up 14.4%, and for example, the Portuguese PSI 20 was down 11.9%.

Away from equity, other noteworthy events occurred in the fixed income. In Europe, the "risk-free" reference 10-year Bund that started the year slightly above 0.6%, has gone through a substantial flight-to-quality, breaching the 0-yielding level and ending at about -0.2% following the UK referendum. The 10-year bund sold-off in the last quarter of 2016 reached 0.4% and ended the year at 0.2%. Yields also increase significantly in the US, ranging from 1.4% to 2.6% during the year. It is also worth noting that the spreads of the main European countries against Germany went up on the 10-year space, despite of the amount of monetary stimulus. American and European corporate spreads behaved closely to their respective equity counterparts. Yield of both Investment and sub-Investment grade companies tightened across regions. Overall, the performances of all bond indices were very strong.

In the commodity space, the main highlight was the recovery of light crude prices that are up more than 52.4% year-to-date, a move that was coincident with the improvement of the market sentiment and the acceleration of the economic activity at the end of the year.

For the upcoming year, despite the political challenges in Europe, we expect investors to regain some faith in its equities, driven by the more attractive valuations and the better economic data and a still quite accommodative monetary policy that should continue to boost the economy recovery. Similar conclusions are worth for Japan, where the combination of monetary and fiscal stimuluses might trigger a rebound of equity markets.

Sub-fund ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - QUADRANT

ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - QUADRANT returned +1.2% to its investors, while volatility over the last 12 months was just 2.7%.

The sub-fund started the year with a 12.2% exposure in equities. The main geographical biases continued to be Europe and Japan, while a small allotment was also dedicated to US. Despite of their attractive valuation, the European and Japanese equity exposures dragged the sub-fund performance. The former dragged just in relative terms while the latter in both absolute and relative terms. The US bucket stands alone as the only contributor above MSCI World Local. The equity exposure ranged from 8.9% to 18%, ending the period at 17.3%.

The fixed income remained the pillar of the Quadrant portfolio. The allocation has substantially increased from the beginning to the year-end, passing from to 20.4% to 54.4%. The shape of this allotment has gone through some changes, having increased the exposure towards high-yield securities by adding positions in Brazil and other emerging economies. Furthermore, a domestic bucket of Portuguese securities have been added to the portfolio. Contributions amid the fixed income investment lines have been mixed, ranging from the positive drivers (Emerging Market Debt, Brazil, Portugal, Investment Grade and High Yield) to the detractors: mostly European convertible and investment grade bond funds. All the detractors were sold throughout 2016.

The currency allocation hasn't seen much action, as the only bucket the sub-fund owns represents 4.0% of the portfolio (as the year-end). Despite of the dimension, these forex exposures, namely long NOK and AUD against the EUR, had a marginal negative contribution.

Sub-fund ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - SEXTANT

ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - SEXTANT returned +1.1% to its investors during 2016. The portfolio maintained its natural balanced conformation, having its exposure dynamically allocated mainly in both equity and fixed income instruments. The volatility over the last 12 months ended at 4.9%.

The sub-fund started the year with a 27.0% exposure in equities. The main geographical biases continued to be Europe and Japan, while a small allotment was also dedicated to US. Despite of their attractive valuation, the European and Japanese equity exposures dragged the sub-fund performance in relative terms. In the aftermath of the UK referendum, selling short-term volatility in Europe did also help mitigating the negative performances of the other lines. The US bucket stands alone as the only contributor above MSCI World Local. The equity exposure ranged from 15.0% to 39.4%, ending the period at 38.2%.

In the fixed income, the allocation has substantially increased from the beginning to the yearend, passing from to 25.5% to almost half of the sub-fund, 48.6%. The shape of this allotment experienced some changes, having increased the exposure towards high-yield securities by adding positions in Brazil and other emerging economies. Furthermore, a domestic bucket of Portuguese emissions have been added to the portfolio. Contributions amid the fixed income investment lines have been mixed, ranging from the positive drivers (Emerging Market Debt, Brazil, Investment Grade and High Yield) to the detractors: mostly European convertibles. During the period we sold the positions in Convertibles and investment grade bonds, whose vehicles were investment funds. Overall, the fixed income cumulative performance has been positive.

In the currency space, despite of the small allocation (4.0% as the year-end), there have been two main highlights: the positive contribution of the long NOK and AUD against EUR positions that partly offset the negative long USD position vs EUR, implemented through option contracts.

Sub-fund ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - OCTANT

ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - OCTANT returned +1.5% to its investors, below the return of MSCI World Local. The volatility over the last 12 months was 14.2%.

We started the year with an equity net exposure of 88.9%, dynamically managed throughout the whole year. The lowest exposure was reached in the middle of January (71.0%) and the amount invested was gradually increased to the peak near the end of December, where the portfolio was exposed 100.7% (net value of the December 27, 2016). The portfolio has remained biased towards the European continent, while Japan does represent the second greatest geographical overweight. Regardless of their attractive valuations and the monetary stimulus underway in both blocs, they both dragged the performance of the sub-fund in relative terms. The relative small allocation towards US did actually mitigate the Japanese and European counterparts' performances. In the aftermath of the UK-referendum, having sold short-term volatility through option contracts revealed to be a positive contributor for the overall sub-fund performance. The view on small caps did negatively contribute; having smaller- capitalized US companies outpaced their European peers.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

a) General

The financial statements are presented in accordance with the legal reporting requirements and generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg.

The Company's total net assets are expressed in euro and correspond to the difference between the total assets and the total liabilities of the Company.

b) Valuation of investments

- a) The securities listed on a stock exchange or another regulated market are valued at the last known price unless that price is not representative.
- b) Securities not admitted to such stock exchange or on such a regulated market as well as securities that are so admitted but for which the final price is not representative, are valued based on the probable realization value estimated prudently and in good faith.
- c) The value of the liquid asset, bills or notes payable on demand and accounts receivable, prepaid expenditures, dividends and interest announced or come to maturity not yet affected, is constituted by the nominal value of these assets, except if it is unlikely that this value could be obtained. In the latter case, the value is determined by subtracting a certain amount that the Board of Directors of the Company deems appropriate to reflect the real value of these assets.
- d) Money market instruments are valued at their nominal value plus any eventually accrued interest or at "marked-to-market". Transferable securities with a residual valued of less than 397 days or transferable securities with a yield that is regularly adapted (at least every 397 days), are evaluated with the amortized cost method.
- e) Assets expressed in a currency other than the currency of the corresponding sub-fund are converted in this sub-fund's reference currency at the applicable exchange rate.
- f) In determining the value of the assets of the Company shares in open-ended underlying funds are valued at the actual net asset value for such shares or units as of the relevant Valuation Day. If events have occurred which may have resulted in a material change in the net asset value of such shares or units since the date on which such net asset value was calculated, the value of such shares or units may be adjusted in order to prudently reflect the probable sale price in the reasonable opinion of the Board of Directors of the Company, but the Board of Directors of the Company is not be required to revise or recalculate the net asset value on the basis of which subscriptions, redemptions or conversions may have been previously accepted.
- g) Futures, forward and option contracts that are not traded on a regulated market or a stock exchange are valued at their liquidation value determined in accordance with rules established in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Company, according to uniform criteria for each type of contract. The value of futures and option contracts traded on a regulated market or stock exchange is based on the closing or settlement price published by the regulated market or stock exchange which is normally the principal place of negotiation for such contracts. If a future or options contract could not be liquidated on the relevant Valuation Day, the criteria for determining the liquidation value of such futures contract or option contract be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company may deem fair and reasonable.

c) Income

Dividends are shown net of withholding tax (deducted at source), and are recorded at ex-date. Interest is recorded on an accrual basis.

d) Foreign exchange translation for each sub-fund

Cash at banks, other net assets as well as the market value of the investment portfolio in currencies other than the currency of the sub-fund are translated into the currency of the sub-fund at the exchange rate prevailing at the year-end.

Income and expenses in currencies other than the currency of the sub-fund are translated into the currency of the sub-fund at the exchange rate prevailing at the payment date.

Resulting realised and unrealised foreign exchange gains and losses are included in the statement of operations and changes in net assets.

e) Net realised gains/losses on investments

Realised gains or losses on the sales of securities are calculated on the basis of average cost.

f) Forward foreign exchange contracts

The unrealised gains or losses resulting from outstanding forward foreign exchange contracts, if any, are determined on the basis of the forward rates applicable at the year-end and are recorded in the statement of net assets.

g) Valuation of forward future contracts

The valuation of forward future contracts is based on the latest price available.

h) Accounting of forward future contracts

At the time of each net asset value calculation, the margin call and related unrealised on forward future contracts is recorded directly in the caption "Cash at banks" and as counterpart in the "Net realised gain/loss on forward future contracts", in the accounting records and in the bank accounts.

i) Payable and receivable in accounting policies

In relation to transactions related both to capital activity (subscriptions and redemptions) and for the purchase or sale of securities on markets where delivery of securities is made against payment of cash, the Depositary may, in its absolute discretion, provide actual settlement. The Depositary reserves the right to reverse at any time any transaction if the relevant transaction has not been settled or if it appears that such transaction will not be settled. The transactions are booked in accounting based on an automated feed from the depositary system. Consequently no payable or receivable are booked on these transactions.

j) Transaction fees

The transaction fees represent the costs incurred by each sub-fund in connection with purchases and sales of investments.

They have been defined as brokerage fees, bank commissions, foreign tax, depositary fees and other transaction fees relating to purchases or sales of transferable securities, money market instruments, derivatives or other eligible assets.

NOTE 3 "TAXE D'ABONNEMENT"

The Company's net assets are subject to a subscription tax of 0.05% per annum payable at the end of each calendar quarter and calculated on the basis of the Company's total net assets at the end of the relevant quarter; such tax is reduced to 0.01% per annum in respect of Share Classes comprising institutional investors only (as per article 174 of the Law), as well as in respect of liquidity funds. This tax is not applicable for the portion of the assets of a sub-fund invested in other Luxembourg undertakings for collective investment already subject to "taxe d'abonnement".

General comments

All VaR figures are calculated by taking into consideration the following parameters

- > 1 month holding horizon
- 99% confidence interval (this means that there is a 1% probability that the value of the portfolio could have a monthly decline larger than the percentage displayed)
- Monte Carlo simulations
- 3.5 years of data history to determine the risk factors

The treatment and presentation of VaR figures is slightly different depending on the VaR option used (relative or absolute).

1 Relative VaR option

For sub-funds monitored through the Relative VaR approach, the maximum level of VaR cannot breach the limit of 200% of the VaR calculated on benchmark.

The daily VaR observations (from January 4, 2016 to December 30, 2016) for the sub-fund have been systematically measured against the VaR observations for the benchmark. The ratio obtained is called the VaR limit utilization ratio.

E.g. February 3, 2016, ATRIUM PORTFOLIO SICAV - OCTANT

Sub-fund VaR 11.76% Benchmark VaR 11.90% VaR limit utilization 98.81%

This ratio has to be put into perspective with the maximum limit allowed by the Law, which is 200%. We present in the table the average, minimum and maximum levels of that VaR limit utilization ratio.

The next two columns present the average VaR levels measured in absolute terms for the sub-fund and the benchmark during the same year.

2 Absolute VaR option

For sub-funds using the Absolute VaR option, we present the figures (avg, min and max) in absolute terms. In other words, they are not measured against any benchmark nor limit. We consider that way of presenting the figures as more relevant and easier to understand.

The leverage level is included as well. It has been calculated as the sum of the notionals of the derivatives used (CESR/10-788 box25). The presented figure is based on daily observations covering the year under review.
